- Possible futures to anticipate and get prepared to the possible futures, to their opportunities and their threats.: Laboratory, Factory, Hospital, Plane, Cockpit... of the Future; experience of the end customers: be it a patient, a consumer, or a passenger; the structural changes in a certain sector or in an ecosystem and the associated new business models ; new skills and new jobs to develop in order to be better armed for those possible futures...

4 Skills

- IMAGINE: imagining new concepts, exploring the sector interfaces, analysing new usages, getting inspiration from benchmark cases, but also conducting creativity exercises, drive design thinking workshops.
- INVESTIGATE: analysing the web and existing literature , interacting with key stakeholders, challenging their viewpoints, building a clear opinion.
- BUILD: building scenarios, delivering solid and sound answers, building recommendations allowing a decision to be made.
- DEVELOP: moving forward, providing a project contributor, a project manager, or even a full project team... assisting the first steps of the commercial or business development.

History

Alcimed was founded in 1993 in an effort to explore the uncharted territories of biotechnology.

From the biotechs, Alcimed rapidly broadened its activity to the life sciences, where the company works today for most of the leading players in healthcare, food industry, and cosmetics, notably for each of the Top 10 players in the Pharmaceutical industry. Then, Alcimed gradually extended its explorations to include chemicals, materials, energy, environment, aeronautics-space-defence, and mobility.
